REAPING THEIR REWARD.

Transatlantic Steamship Companies Sustaining Ruinous Losses at Present.

Statement of the United States Consul at Havre, France, as to the Situation.

Five Deaths in New York---The Disease Pronounced Undoubtedly Asiastic Cholera.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The steamship companies, especially the Hamburg-American Packet Co., are paying a heavy penalty for their carelessness with their steerage passengers. This may be seen from the fact that the North German Lloyd steamship Spree left this port yesterday for Bremen with only ten first cabin and 25 second cabin passengers. She carried no steerage passengers. The Hamburg-American liner Columbia will sail for Southampton to-day without a single passenger, cabin or steerage, and also without a single ounce of freight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The last of the immigrants who had been booked for passage to this country before President Harrison's proclamation was issued will sail from foreign ports to day. Hereafter no more steerage passengers will be taken on steamships in Europe bound for this port. There has been a suspicion that steerage passengers were being booked for this country as second class passengers. If this has been done, the agents of the steamship companies deny it, there will be no more of such evasions.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—O.F. Williams, of Rochester, U. S. consul at Havre, arrived in the city yesterday from Havre, having been detained on the steamer La Champagne at quarantine since Sunday. He said: "La Champagne left Cherbourg on Sept. 3rd, the Havre steamers have sailed from that port since Havre was declared to be an infected city. We had no sickness aboard among the passengers. There was some alarm over the case of a stoker, but it was found to be a case of ordinary cramps. I issued a clean bill of health to the Urania on Aug. 27. Three days after she had sailed I discovered there was cholera in Havre, and I cabled to Washington a message of warning and suggested that the ship be thoroughly inspected. The following day, refused a clean bill to the steamer Rugia, which called at Havre on her way from Hamburg to the United States and ever since I have refused to issue clean health bills to Hamburg.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The iron steamship Pegasus with the 69th regiment and naval reserve aboard, arrived here this morning after a hard night's battle with a heavy sea and south-east gale, failing to reach Fire Island. They were dismissed at the armory.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 14.—(11 a. m.) Dr. Jenkins says the Normannia's passengers will be released from Fire Island tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Health Board at 10 o'clock this morning announced that there were no cases of cholera in this city.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Board of Health officially announces five deaths from Asiatic cholera, as follows: Chas. McEver, who died Sept. 6th, address unknown. Mrs. Sophia Wigman, died 10th inst. at 761 Eleventh avenue; the husband of Sophia, died at the same address the following day. Minnie Levinger, a child, died Sept. 11th, at 451 East 46th street. Carlotta Beck, aged 3, died yesterday at 464 Second avenue. All these were originally reported to the health department as suspected cholera cases and have been under the investigation of physicians connected with the department. Prof. Herman Biggs, who is in charge of division of pathology and bacteriology of the health department, has been at work making bacteriological examinations of the intestinal fluids taken from the bodies of these suspected cases. Prof. Biggs reported to the health department this afternoon the result of his examinations, and announced the cases to be Asiatic cholera beyond a doubt.

(2 p.m.)—Dr. Jenkins was asked at 1:30 this morning when he expected to transfer passengers from the infected ships. He said the transfer depended somewhat upon the arrival of the Cepheus, which had been ordered from Fire Island to quarantine, but had not reported. It was learned that the cabin passengers on the Rugia, after hearing of the experiences of the Normannia's passengers, had got up a petition asking permission to remain where they are, until they can be cleared from quarantine.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Board of Health reports one case of Asiatic cholera in this city, but will not state where.

ALBANY, Sept. 13.—Attorney General Rosendale to-day telegraphed Governor Flower and Professor Collin to the effect that Judge Barnard's injunction against the use of Fire Island is not binding. He quotes the case of Whiting, in which the Supreme Court held that the health officer of the port of New York was a state officer, and holds that no injunction can be granted against such use of Fire Island by a state officer.

QUEBEC, Sept. 26.—The passengers on the steamship Wanderhm, which arrived in quarantine on Saturday last, were landed on Grosse Isle on Monday morning, immediately after the departure of the steamship Labrador's emigrants for Quebec. They were detained on the island for 24 hours and were fumigated, as well as their baggage, and the steamer was disinfected while the passengers were on the island. They re-embarked yesterday to allow the emigrants of the steamer Mongelian to land. The Wandrehm, having been thoroughly disinfected according to the Dominion laws, will leave quarantine to-morrow morning, but will not be allowed to proceed to her destination, for as soon as she reaches this port she comes under the law of the Provincial Board of Health, and will undoubtedly undergo inspection by Dr. Beaudry, who will report thereon, and then the Provincial boards of health will decide what they will do under the circumstances. The steamship Steinhoft, of the Hamburg line, left Antwerp on the 7th and is expected here about the 19th. It is more than likely that she has no passengers on board. Orders have been given to all steamboats and tugs not to go to Grosse Isle without a special permit of the provincial boards of health.

NO. 4 MINE ON FIRE.

Will Discontinue Inspection of Travelers—Inadequate Receptacles.

NANAIMO, Sept. 14.—Dr. Praeger, health officer, has announced his intention of abandoning the inspection of passengers from Vancouver on Friday, and on next Wednesday the same will pertain to Victoria. The citizens generally are devotedly thankful to the Doctor for the services he has rendered to the city. Those who appreciate the labor of this medical gentleman most are those who possess families.

Mr. W. Roos, who for some time canvassed the city for the purpose of starting a daily paper here, has relinquished his intention, as he did not get the support he anticipated.

Information reached here yesterday that No. 4 mine, Wellington, was on fire. It was first observed on Saturday night, and although a number of hands have been engaged in endeavoring to extinguish it, so far, their efforts have been futile. The fire continues to spread and it is claimed the mine will have to be flooded before it can be put out.

LAST OF THE SMALLPOX.

A Bank Clerk's Defaulcations Discovered and Terminated by the Police.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14.—McPhee, an infant, the last smallpox patient was taken from the hospital to-day as cured, but with the mother is still isolated till the usual disinfecting baths are given. The city is now clear of the dread malady.

A piece of ore bearing silver, antimony and plumbago was found inside corporation limits yesterday, and many tons are in sight, though probably it is a piece of drift rock. Old miners pronounce the sample valuable.

A clerk of the Bank of B.C., who has been faring sumptuously every day, has been brought up with a sharp turn. Yesterday when found he had been marking checks good for parties after the accounts had been overdrawn, and committing other irregularities. The police found him in his room last night, revolver in his hand evidently intending to shoot himself. He was taken to the Manor House and locked in a room over night. His defalcations are placed at $5,000, secured by a guarantee company. It is not decided yet whether he will be prosecuted. The accused was about to be transferred to the Portland branch and previous to leaving, his books were checked over, and the discrepancy discovered. Up to a short time ago he was a frequenter of the best circles there; his fine musical voice made him quite a favorite, but of late he has not received the hearty welcome hitherto accorded on account of his reported fast life.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and General Herbert and party left for the east to-day. Last night Bowell as G. M. of British North America visited Orange Lodge and addressed the brethern.

Negotiations for the sale of the last issue of $950,000 city debentures are said to be practically closed, and awaits only confirmation of the council. The price realized has not been officially given out, but is said to be 87.

The Y. M. C. A. have organized an association football club for the season, and a meeting was called this morning to form another club. The Vancouver team will play at New Westminster during exhibition week.

Mining by Electricity.

A correspondent of the New York Sun says: At one of the principal lead mines in Brussels, the Mechernich, some special features have been introduced, for not only is the mine electrically lighted, but a current is used throughout for economy of labor. An enormous quantity is daily raised—more than 3000 tons—but so perfect are the automatic arrangements that only 25 hands are required for this great output. A peculiar appliance is in vogue which has proved a great convenience, and it is thought is destined to quite general adoption. When a wagon of ore is tipped at the shaft's mouth electric contact is made in the tipping, and a small needle in the office makes a red mark on a band of paper revolving by clockwork, the object of this being not so much to give automatically the number of wagons tipped, as to show at a glance that the hauling is proceeding regularly; the paper band is divided into half hours for a week throughout, and at the end of the week's work it is clearly seen and known at once what number of wagons have been tipped on any day and at any time.

CLEVELAND ON THE TARIFF

The Democratic Leader Has Some Facts Ready for the Political Campaign.

President Hill of the Great Northern Leaves the Western Traffic Association.

Whitecaps at Work—The Chilean Elections—An Indiana Shooting Affray.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mr. Cleveland, in his letter of acceptance, it is said, intends to depart from a strict interpretation of the tariff plank of the platform adopted in the convention at Chicago, and the appeal to the country is to be made on a carefully prepared modification of it. Much correspondence is going back and forth between the Democratic national headquarters and Grey Gables about the matter. What Mr. Cleveland is understood to object to particularly is this sentence of the platform:—"We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only, and we demand that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of the government when honestly and economically administered." This utterance was not satisfactory to Mr. Cleveland at the time of its adoption; it was a part of the substituted clause, by a combination of extreme opponents of the tariff and Mr. Cleveland's ill-wishers, who wanted to weigh him down. Mr. Cleveland will discuss at length and compare the differences between foreign and domestic wages, showing that they are not correspondingly as great as the differences in the prices of commodities. The letter will not be made public until the latter part of next week, and perhaps not until the week following. In about two weeks Mr. Cleveland will close up Grey Gables and return to New York to stay until after the election.

A Tragic Suicide.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A report from Paris says:—Columns of the French press have been filled for the past month with the accounts of the extraordinary swindles perpetrated by a Madame Apparuti, who, in the course of three or four years has succeeded in extracting from her dupes nearly three million francs. In her correspondence she pretended to have colossal dealings with the Royal and Imperial families of Russia and Greece. Finally, one of her creditors entered a claim against her, upon which she went to Russia, and from St. Petersburg continued to try and keep up the fable. The French courts, nevertheless, gave an order for her arrest, and the necessary formalities for her extradition were commenced. At that time she was staying at a fashionable hotel, where, however she was kept under close surveillance. Last week, finding the game was up, Madame Apparuti undressed, drenched herself with petroleum, and set fire to herself. It was discovered that before setting light to her night-dress, in order probably to make assurance doubly sure she had cut the veins at the root of her tongue with a pair of scissors. Three days later the Russian authorities informed the French consulate that all was in order for her extradition, and it was only then that the facts of her tragic end became known.

Laid Low at Last.

MITCHELL, Ind., Sept. 14.—Henry Low, a township trustee of Lawrence county, who has been made a target in the last three years for more bullets than any other man in the country, perhaps, has been shot dead, and has left no one but the man who shot him to tell the circumstances of his death. Late last evening Low and T. B. Moore, marshal of Mitchell, were walking along the streets together conversing in a friendly manner. This morning at an early hour Low was shot by Moore, and was found with six bullets through his head, stomach and heart. Moore said he hastened home last night at a late hour and was awakened by the sound of blows in a stairway near by, leading to Griffiths' gallery and just above Burton's drug store. He reached the place as soon as possible and found some one, whom he claims he did not know, with an axe tearing up the stairway over the drug store. The man, whom he took to be a burglar, saw that he was discovered, and began to fire at Moore, firing six or seven shots and wounding him in the hand. Moore says that, taking him for a burglar, he began to return the fire, and Low fell. The case is a complicated one. At first no one could understand why Low, who is in good circumstances, should be trying to break into a store, but it has been found that some clothes which were evidence against one Sherman Eagan, for stealing, were in the garret, underneath the stairs. Some think Low wanted to get them so that there would be no evidence.

Whitecaps at Work.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 14.—Seaver county whitecaps last night took Geo. S. Stevens, a farmer, his mother, his sister Lizzie, and a woman named Tilda West from their home, stripped them of their clothing and whipped them nearly to death. They were ordered to leave the county within two days under penalty of death. A company of law-abiding citizens is being formed to rid the section of the whitecap gang.

Chilean Elections.

VALPARAISO, Sept. 14.—Elections were held in several parts of South Chile yesterday. At San Carlos, a number of armed Liberals attacked a crowd of Conservatives, and in the fight that followed, the brother of the parish priest was killed and several others wounded. The Liberals say that the sub-curate celebrated mass in honor of the hoped-for election of the church candidate, and that the priest interfered with the election. This led to the fight. Much excitement prevails in consequence of this disturbance, and the Government has ordered the intendente to make a rigid investigation. The senatorial elections in Santiago resulted in the return of Augustin Rossa, Radical, and Aguarte, Conservative. At Tarrapaca, Ramos Loca was elected without opposition, and at Chiloe, Isadore Errazuriz was the successful candidate.

ROYAL CITY ITEMS.

Tennis Tournament Winners—A Stubborn Witness Punished for Contempt.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 14.—The body of Charles Munro, drowned while bathing a week ago last Sunday, was found in the North Arm on Monday. An inquest is being held.

Miss Hill and Mr. Ransom beat Mrs. Gaynor and Dr. Fagan in ladies' and gentlemen's doubles final in the Westminster tennis tournament.

Two boys named Ritchie and Rankin, aged 14 and 16 respectively, have been arrested for stealing 60 sacks from the stable of Mr. Richardson. They have been carrying on their depredations many months.

A youth named C. Scott was committed for contempt of court on Tuesday in the police court proceedings against H. Dotty for sending in a false alarm of fire. The case was up again this morning and Scott was in the witness box, when he still refused to answer questions, and was sentenced for contempt to thirty days' imprisonment. The case will come up in the meantime if he consents to answer counsel's questions. An appeal has been made against the conviction.

Bi-Chloride of Gold Convention.

DWIGHT, Ill., Sept. 14.—The convention of Bi-Chloride of Gold Clubs resumed its session this morning with an attendance even larger than that of yesterday. The new opera house in which the gathering is being held, and which is taxed to its utmost to accommodate the delegates and visitors, is built on the club grounds and is one of the many evidences of the prosperity which the Keeley Institute has brought to the little town of Dwight. A rumor has been industriously circulated for some time to the effect that Dr. Keeley would announce to the convention his intention of publishing the formula of his remedy, and that within a few days the magic prescription would be at the command of every physician in the land who chose to use it. The story has been discredited from the first by those who are in a position to speak authoritatively of Dr. Keeley's intentions, and as the Doctor himself has given no intimation that he intends to pursue such a course it is probable that he intends to guard his secret as carefully as ever. The convention will hold another session to-morrow, which will wind up the second annual gathering of the organization.

President Moore called the meeting to order and was presented with a golden gavel by the Chicago Bi-chloride club. The women's bi-chloride clubs, which were holding a separate meeting, were invited to join the general convention, and came in a body. Lieutenant-Governor Ray welcomed the delegates to the state.

Canadian Trade Statistics.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—The Star's special cable from London says: The Board of Trade returns show that the exports to Canada increased 10 per cent. in August and decreased 2 per cent. in the past eight months, compared with last year. There has been a heavy decline in horses, railroad iron and tin plates, and an increase in wearing apparel. In woollens there has been a marked growth. The imports from Canada increased 34 per cent. during the month, and 23 per cent. during the eight months. Wheat increased in the three months £110,000; cheese, £300,000; lumber, £720,000.

The Ottawa Assizes.

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—The assizes sit here to-morrow before Chief Justice Armour. The Arnoldi case will be proceeded with, but the Government will not go on with the cases against McGreevy and Connolly. The excuse will be that they have not got all the books. No one here imagined they would go on with the cases. The other important case that will come up will be that of Labelle, civil servant, who has been lying in jail for nearly one year, charged with poisoning his wife.

Open for Further Engagements.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 14.—The steamer Kite, with Lieutenant Perry's party aboard, leaves here at 2:30 this afternoon for New York or Philadelphia. As yet no definite arrangements have been made by the party as to their future movements. Lieutenant Perry says he would have no objection to making another Arctic exploring trip. He believes there is no permanent open sea between Greenland and the Pole, but there are several detached bodies of land.

Fine Stock For Canada.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Mr. McGregor of Brandon, Man., sailed on the steamship Oregon with 32 of the best stallions that have ever gone to Canada. He has 200 selected Shropshires which also go to Canada.

Pleased With the Outlook.

Mr. F. P. Blackman, solicitor for the proposed Canada Western railway, last night received a letter from Mr. Frank Bakeman, who has arrived in Chicago. Mr. Bakeman says in his letter that the parties interested and to whom he has reported, are very much pleased with the outlook.

DOMINION LABOR CONGRESS.

Many Interesting Questions Dealt With at the Toronto Meeting.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—At the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress resolutions have been passed unanimously in favor of municipalities owning all electric light plants, waterworks, ferries and street railways, and the Federal Government owning and controlling all railways and telegraph and telephone lines.

Lower province delegates moved a resolution in favor of a nine-hour day for women and children employed in workshops and factories, but an amendment making it eight hours was carried by an overwhelming majority after a hot debate.

A resolution was adopted unanimously declaring the admission of Chinese a menace and an undeniable danger to the moral and material interests of Canada, and that it should be totally prohibited; and that as the presence of those now in Canada entails an extra and special expense on the whole people of those provinces in which they sojourn in large numbers, a special annual poll tax of $100 be imposed on each Chinaman after a given date. The Japanese were included in the foregoing, which was carried with much enthusiasm.

Californian Desperadoes.

VISALIA, Cal., Sept. 13.—Several parties of three or four each started for Samson's Flat on receipt of the news that Sontag and Evans had killed three men engaged in hunting them. It is confidently believed that they will be killed or captured.

FRESNO, Sept. 13.—The startling intelligence was received at the sheriff's office at 3 o'clock this afternoon that Evans and Sontag had been found at the house of a man named Young, at Simpson's Flat, about 40 miles from here, and that in the battle that ensued three men had been killed and others hurt. The account is authentic, as it came by telephone from Constable Warren Hill of Sanger, who escaped from the fight without his horse, shot under him in the fight. Sheriff Hensley collected a posse. Hill instructed the officers from here to meet him at Dunlap's to-night, and accordingly the officers from Fresno will reach that place with all haste. The shooting was done from Young's house. As the men were going down the trail Evans and Sontag threw open the door and fired on them. Immediately after the shooting the robbers escaped, without any interference, further into the mountains in a northeasterly direction. A determined effort will be made to bring the outlaws in dead or alive. Further information is received by wire as to how the fight occurred. The Indian trailers were walking down the path toward Young's house on Samson's Flat, not knowing that Evans and Sontag were there. They had just reached the yard when Evans and Sontag opened fire. Hill left two policemen in charge of the dead and set out for the nearest point on the flume where he could telegraph for assistance.

Denied Fifty Times.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 13.—It is claimed that American Consul Ryder so far from having confessed the frauds charged against him has persistently denied them, although he has been subjected to nearly 50 examinations by the magistrate, whose powers are similar to those of the French judge of instructions. These repeated examinations have unnerved Ryder to such a degree that it is a question whether he is in his right mind. When removed from his cell to be subjected to one of these inquisitorial audiences, he raves, resists the guards by kicking them, and dashes himself to the ground. The guards then chain him in order to hold him in subjection. The American Minister, C. E. Carr, is reported to have examined Ryder in regard to the affairs of the consulate.

They Don't Like Americans.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Late advices from Genoa regarding the murder of Frank Reilly, a seaman of the United States steamer Newark, who was killed in a lodging house in Genoa, shows national animus against Americans. The proprietor of the lodging house, when the Newark's men applied for lodging, used abusive language to them as Americans. One of those present, knowing the proprietor, advised the men that it was unsafe for them to remain. All the sailors started for the door, whereupon the proprietor, with a knife in each hand, sprang toward Reilly and struck him with both weapons in the back. Reilly staggered to the street, where he fell and died in a few minutes. In consequence of the killing of Reilly, sailors of United States vessels are not allowed to go on shore at Genoa.

The Tin Plate Industry.

ELWOOD, Ind., Sept. 13.—Yesterday was a memorable day in the history of this little town. With pomp and ceremony, with the music of many bands and the overflowing eloquence of statesmen, the first tin plate manufactory to be established in the United States as a result of the McKinley bill was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. Every visitor, immediately upon his or her arrival, was provided with a badge made of genuine American tin plate, which the recipients displayed upon their breasts. The dedication of the tin plate works took place shortly after 2 o'clock, the employees, citizens and strangers marching in procession to the factory.

Ireland Comes First.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Rt. Hon. Mr. Gladstone drove to-day to Bengelert and afterwards addressed a meeting of quarrymen in a wild defile at the foot of Snowdon. He said he trusted the Government would meet the wishes of the 28 Welsh members of Parliament; but the first thing to be attended to would be the wants of the Irish. He felt bound to say he considered, that the English and Scotch also had wants to which he hoped to attend as soon as his hearers could wish. In speaking of the land question, Mr. Gladstone reminded his hearers that while in England there had been a general reduction of rents by 24 per cent. the reduction in Wales had been only seven per cent.

Decimating the Fisher Folk.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 13. — The storms of last week caused great damage to shipping, and the death of upwards of 150 persons at Cape St. Mary's. On Friday the schooner King was wrecked and all on board, including Captain William Emberley, Mate William Westcott and four seamen, were drowned. At Gaskeos, St. Mary's, Martin Tobin and his nephews, Patrick and Michael Tobin, and Edward Haines were swept into the sea by a huge sea and all were drowned. At Portugal Cove four fishermen were drowned and much property destroyed. At Trepassey, while endeavoring to save her fishing boats, the schooner Jennie Foote was swamped and her crew of 10 men were drowned.

A DOCTOR'S OPINIONS.

TO THE EDITOR:—A lengthy and careful study of the past history and present position of vaccination has led me to desire strongly that we could examine the question on more scientific grounds, leaving statistics and the original claims of Jenner, neither of which are really of use, since Jenner founded his claims on the results of experiments which to-day are utterly insufficient for the profession, and the vaccination of to-day is not the system proposed by Jenner, whilst statistics seem so plastic that anything may be proved by them. I would remark that our present methods of procuring and using what is called "vaccine lymph" are very crude, unscientific and dangerous. I am of opinion that the bacilli of disease are sometimes implanted with vaccine lymph, both the bovine and the humanized. We should not allow so crude a proceeding as our present method of vaccination to be pursued with any new artificial inoculation with an animal fluid, and it may be that we are on the wrong track in using an animal fluid at all. Our vaccine lymph is not a fixed and stable substance. During the artificial production of this fluid by inoculation from one animal to another, through a long series, it has become modified, and is not the same thing as it was at first. Fresh and spontaneous outbreaks of cowpox do not occur now, as dairies are cleaner now than in Jenner's time. We have dropped Jenner's original method on which he insisted, the inoculation of calves from the matter from the "grease" of horses' heels, since so dangerous and filthy a proceeding is inadmissible. We are trying to use pure calf lymph, the discovery not of Jenner, but of the dairymaids before Jenner's time; but it was this calf lymph which Jenner condemned as useless, and we have so modified it by long dilution through animal bodies, that it is even not the same as when he discarded it. It is proving a variable and often dangerous substance, and is not what modern science would indicate as protective against smallpox.

What have we here? The idle vaporing of some misguided anti-vaccinator, who, fortified by a little learning, which we all know is a dangerous thing, even in a doctor, presumes to set his opinions against those at present held by the majority of the medical profession? By no means. The sentences I have just quoted were written by Dr. Gerard Smith, M.R.C.S, the well-known bacteriologist, in a letter to the English Mechanic. The incident shows clearly two things; that there is at least one member of the medical profession who, although orthodox, has not only the courage to investigate for himself, but the straightforwardness to state unwelcome truths without reserve; and that the British workingman, educated by the successful agitation now going on in England, is able to digest much stronger food than his literary stomach hitherto has been deemed capable of assimilating. PRECAUTIONS FOR CHOLERA.

The Quebec Provincial Board of Health have issued a circular giving instructions as to precautions to be taken against cholera. The circular is printed, and is to be very extensively circulated. It reads as follows:—

Avoid hardships and exhaustion.

Avoid excesses in every form, and be particularly moderate in drinking and eating.

Avoid unripe or unsound fruits; beverages of inferior quality; uncooked or underdone food, especially vegetables.

Avoid dampness and chills, iced food and drinks.

Avoid uselessly attending public assemblies.

See that your drinking water is pure. Boil it, if you doubt its purity: this should be done with well-water. It is well also to boil the milk, especially as it is often adulterated with water.

Have your food always of good quality, sound and well cooked.

Pay a great attention to personal cleanliness and also to that of your clothing.

Your house, from cellar to garret, must be kept scrupulously clean, especially the cellar, which is most generally neglected. Give free entrance to air, light and sun, for they are the best means of making a house healthy.

Be particular that the soil around your house is not contaminated by stagnant pools of water or animal and vegetable refuse. Remove from the vicinity of your house all rubbish in a state of decomposition. Burn all filth and refuse, or have them removed and buried.

Empty, clean and disinfect all what may be soiled in your house or in its vicinity: cesspools, privy pits, water-closets, sinks, drains, gutters, manure boxes, stables and other dependencies. An excellent practice would be to lime-wash the walls and ceilings of the cellars, stable and other dependencies.

Have all defective drains renewed or repaired.

All the preventive measures against cholera are outlined in the following axiom: Live healthily in a healthy home.

The symptoms of cholera are diarrhœa, the discharges successively showing the rice water characteristics, vomiting, cramps, exhaustion and fall of the temperature (algid stage.)

HOW TO OPPOSE CHOLERA.

When a case of cholera declares itself in your household notify immediately the health officer or the secretary-treasurer of your municipality.

If there is, in the municipality, an isolation hospital, house or tent, it is most advisable to remove the patient to it. The quarantine of your house is thus shortened, and also the exposure of your family, the disinfection of the house being then made immediately after the removal of the patient.

If the patient is not removed to the isolation hospital, house or tent, have your house placarded, and isolate immediately the patient with his nurse in a separate room, from which curtains, carpets and needless furniture have been removed and into which the physician and clergyman only shall be admitted.

All the other members of the household must remain in quarantine on the premises until disinfection is made, that is to say, shall not leave the lot upon which the house is situated or put themselves in communication with people outside, except with the guardian in attendance at the door, who will do the outside service for the inmates.

Doubtful cases of cholera should be treated as genuine cases.

When cholera is about, looseness of the bowels should never be overlooked, as diarrhœa either predisposes individuals to cholera or is the first symptom of cholera itself. Thus, especially if there are cases of cholera in the vicinity, the slightest attack of diarrhœa must be attended to at once.

DISINFECTION.

The principle disinfectants are the following:

1. Fire.
2. Steam.
3. Boiling water.
4. Bichloride of mercury; two drachms in a gallon of water.
5. Carbolic acid; four ounces in a gallon of water.
6. Milk of lime, which is prepared as follows:

Sprinkle gradually quicklime of good quality with one half its weight of water; dilute the powder so obtained with twice its volume of water, keep in a carefully closed vessel.

7. Chloride of lime in powder or in solution: six ounces in a gallon of water.
8. Sulphurous acid, by burning three pounds of sulphur for each 1000 cubic feet of space.

The above disinfectants only are recommended by the Board of Health of the Province, and it is in your interest not to put too much confidence in the so-called disinfectants of the trade, most of them being merely deodorizers.

Disinfectants No. 2 and No. 3 are used only in the general disinfection of the house and its contents, which disinfection must always be made under the supervision of the local Board of Health of the municipality.

Is considered infected by cholera: whatever has been soiled by the stools, the vomit or urine of a choleric patient, whatever has remained in the patient's room or has been in contact with his clothing or anything that has been used by him.

METHODS OF DISINFECTION.

Crockery and utensils must be washed in boiling water. Remains of food, together with rags, or linen if of little value, which have been used by the patient, must be burned.

Underclothing, sheets, towels, soiled or not by evacuations, must, in the room, be put in a tub containing solution No. 4 or No. 5, to steep therein for 4 hours, and then be washed in boiling water.

The evacuations of the patient (vomits, stools and urine) must be received in a vessel one-third full of one of the solutions No. 4, No. 5 or No. 6, and immediately thrown into the water-closets or privies. It is most important that these evacuations be disinfected, for they, more than anything else, contain the cholera poison. As long as the disease exists, water-closets and privy-pits must be daily disinfected with solution Fo. 4, No. 5 or No. 6.

To disinfect themselves, persons must wash the whole of their bodies with a solution of carbolic acid: two ounces in a gallon of water. The nurse shall often wash his hands with the same solution, particularly before eating, and frequently rinse his mouth with a solution of carbolic acid: one ounce in gallon of water.

To purify any place, that has been soiled by filth or refuse, etc., sprinkle with solution No. 4, No. 5 or No. 6.

The body of a person who has died from cholera must be wrapped in a sheet saturated with solution No. 4 or No. 5, and put in a coffin with two pounds of chloride of lime. The body must remain completely isolated in the room and be interred within 25 hours after death.

No one is allowed to attend the funeral or burial except the clergyman, one member of the family, the person removing the body to the cemetery and the grave-digger.

Every vehicle used in transporting such body together with the outside garments of the persons who have dressed or buried it, must be immediately disinfected under the direction of the local Board of Health.

After the death or recovery of the patient, your house, all the inmates and effects contained therein must be disinfected under the direction of the local Board of Health and according to the regulations of the Board of Health of the Province.

The quarantine of your house shall not be raised until 10 complete days after its disinfection.

For other information which you may need, apply to the Health Officer or Secretary-Treasurer of the municipality.

Make it your special duty, in your interest of the whole community, to strictly follow the instructions which are given out to you, and to help, by your co-operation the work of the sanitary authorities.

BRIEF BUT BUSINESSLIKE.

The Board of School Trustees Dispose of Various Matters Last Evening.

At the meeting of the School Board last night there were present Chairman Hayward and Trustees McConnon, Richards, McKay and Lovell. The question of supplying different articles of school use and the enlargement of Miss Lawson's room in the Victoria West school to accommodate the increase in the number of pupils, was referred to the committee on supplies to act.

Chas. E. Gordon was appointed janitor of the James Bay school, and the contract for scavenging was awarded to John Doherty. Upon application of Trustee McConnon the board granted the Presbyterian church the use of the James Bay schoolhouse as a Sunday school. A number of small bills were referred to the proper committees, and several communications for appointment on the teaching staff were received and filed. The board adjourned after a 20 minutes' session.

THE SHORTENED ARM.

The Russians have now in captivity the crews of at least three Canadian sealers, and may have others whose seizure has not yet been reported. These men were unwarrantably deprived of their liberty while engaged in a legitimate calling on the high seas. Their property has been taken from them by virtual pirates, and they have been treated as outlaws. They are very likely at the present time enduring hardships from which they have no means of escape. All this must be known to the Government of Canada and the Government of Great Britain, yet neither government moves a finger for the rescue of the unfortunate sealers. What is our citizenship worth if it does not carry with it the privilege of being protected from the unlawful attacks of foreigners? By what ruling are British Columbians excepted from the generally recognized provisions of the law of nations? If our sealers are to be classed as outlaws, men beyond the pale of civilization, nondescripts over whom the "meteor flag" must not be allowed to throw its protecting folds, then, in the name of common sense, let us have the fact formally established by the two governments, so that these men may know where they stand. For many reasons we should like to know why an exception is made of British Columbia sealers. Possibly when the grounds for this exception are set forth they may be found to operate similarly in the case of other British Columbians. Perhaps we are already cut loose, regardless of our own consent, from Canada and from the British Empire. The situation may well cause alarm, for if the protection we are supposed to enjoy has been withdrawn from us we have little means of protecting ourselves. Even that staid Tory and Imperialist journal the Vancouver Telegram is moved to cry out: "Loyal Canadians will not stand such treatment long and remain loyal. They will demand separation from an Empire whose Government has not spirit and patriotism enough to protect its subjects." If the situation continues long as it is a good many people will be found joining in the Telegram's declaration.

THE PREMIERSHIP.

Sir John Abbott has virtually retired from the Premiership, and Sir John Thompson virtually reigns in his stead, with the almost certain prospect of his becoming the occupant of the post de jure as well as de facto. Men of all parties and men of no party seem to accept his succession as a settled thing. The Conservative papers all pronounce in favor of it, so far as we have seen, and the Liberals, of course, can have no objection to it from a party point of view. From a national point of view they have just the same objections to Sir John Thompson as they would have to any other member of his party. Between him and Sir Charles Tupper, the only other possible leader who is seriously spoken of, they would be likely to choose Thompson as the least of two evils. It is interesting to note the criticisms of the professedly indepenent journals, which may be supposed to treat the succession to the premiership from a purely national standpoint. The Toronto Mail and the Montreal Star, two of the most prominent of these, have both talked about Sir John, and both have declared him unsuitable. The Mail, as was to be expected, finds fault with him on the score of his religious belief, which it maintains will influence his position on certain politico-religious questions. The Star, on the other hand, would not take the matter of religion into account. But both these independent critics have an indictment to prefer against Sir John on political grounds. The Mail puts it in this way:—

Sir John Thompson will no doubt step into Sir John Abbott's place. By what tenure will he hold it? Two years ago he might perhaps have held it by a tenure in some measure independent of the mere party machine and of the impure forces by which the machine is maintained and worked. Trained in the clearer and calmer air of the judiciary, with sentiments framed more by jurisprudence than by the party code, and uncontaminated personally by any of the scandals, he might have presented himself as the reformer and purifier of whom the country stands so much in need. There was a general willingness to accept him in that character. But the country has been disappointed, while the creatures of the machine, who desire to have as their leader an unscrupulous tactician and divider of the spoils, have experienced a corresponding relief. Sir John Thompson has shown some alacrity in punishing corruption among clerks, and great alacrity in seconding the punishment of corruption among opponents such as Mr. Mercier and his confederates in Quebec. But against inquiry into corruption on a great scale and among men of his own party he has shut the door of public justice. He has even done this cynically and with an air which betokens that he has made himself thoroughly over to the service of party, and is ready to snap his fingers in the face of remonstrance so long as he is borne out by votes. Evidently there is nothing to be expected from him but a thoroughly party leadership carried on by the usual methods and sustained by the forces with which Canada has been made too familiar under the Governments of the last 20 years. We shall not even have a change of tone; or if we have, it will only be from the levity of Sir John Macdonald to something less light but not more moral.

A more serious objection to him is to be found in the errors into which his strong partisanship has drawn him. His great legal ability has led to his being used by the party to get its black sheep out of all their scrapes. As a result Sir John Thompson has been chiefly known of late as an apologist for all sorts of rascality. His talents have been chiefly shown in making the worse appear the better reason. We do not anticipate any difficulty in Sir John Thompson keeping together the Conservative party in Parliament, the party hacks of the subsidized press, or such of the rank and file as live upon the crumbs which fall from the Council table. They will support him all right, and they would support Satan in the same position; but there are serious doubts whether Sir John could lead the party to victory in a general election. The fact that there is nobody else in the Cabinet to be thought of in connection with the Premiership will, no doubt, help to consolidate the feeling of the party in Sir John's favor. Another consideration which may help him is that his appointment would practically involve no change. He has been the real leader of ths Conservative party ever since Sir John Macdonald died, and the malcontents who have endured his leadership so long may be getting reconciled to it.

It may be said that the fault which these two independent journals agree in finding in the coming premier's political record is a fault to be registered against his whole party. With his followers clamoring for the suppression of inquiries which would be likely to hopelessly discredit the whole organization, Sir John had to get into line with them or drop out of his place. The moral weakness which caused him to accept the first alternative unfits him for the chief place in the Government, but it does not make him unsuitable for the leadership of his party, none of whom are in this respect any better than he is. Like the Star, we should not think of objecting to Sir John Thompson's becoming Premier on account of his religious belief, but we do see in his political course good reasons why he should not be in power. The same reasons, however would operate against the whole government of which is to be the head. We may notice in conclusion that the two papers quoted from hold very different views in regard to Sir Charles Tupper. The Star says:—"Our own impression is that the unity of the Conservative party and the preservation of the loyal and patriotic principles which characterize it would be best secured under the leadership of Sir Charles Tupper." The Mail, on the other hand, regards Sir Charles as utterly unsuitable in every way, more especially because of his conduct in relation to the negotiations with the United States. It may apparently be safely assumed that Sir Charles will not become Premier, and it is therefore useless to consider his suitability.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Vancouver World says "Alderman Hunter talks a great deal, but on election day he always votes right." That is perhaps the highest compliment the World could think of paying to any man.

The Colonist on Sunday laid the specific charge against the Mayor that he was actuated by hostility to the Provincial Government when he refused to put Ald. Humber's motion to the council. Yesterday the TIMES offered overwhelming evidence to the contrary, to wit, the Mayor's own remarks on that occasion. The Colonist now alters its charge to a general one of "hostility to the Provincial Government in his administration of the health affairs of the city." This dodge of crawling away from the issue is a favorite one with the Government organ. It will not avail, however. The public knows as well as the Colonist that the only hostility the Mayor has shown was in resenting the attacks made upon him by the Government. He would have been unworthy of his place and the confidence of the citizens if he had not been ready to defend his trust.

The birth of a daughter to the Emperor and Empress of Germany must have taken a heavy load off the mind of the former, if we are to believe a recent Berlin cable letter. The correspondent states that lately there was brought to the attention of Emperor William the following prophecy, made by a monk some centuries ago, and recorded in the Prussian archives:

"After receiving a mortal blow from a conqueror who shall come from the west, (supposed to be Napoleon I), the German empire shall be erected again two generations later by a monarch of a new dynasty, (Emperor William I), who will live to a great age, rule long, and, owing to the wisdom of his government, be beloved by all his subjects. He will be followed by a monarch, who will have but a short reign, (Emperor Frederick), and the latter will be followed by a third monarch, who will have seven sons, none of whom will ascend the throne."

As Emperor William had already six sons, and as all the other conditions of the prophecy fitted his case, it would not be unnatural to find him a little anxious as to the sex of the seventh child and correspondingly relieved when it proved to be a daughter. The Kaiser's mind is not without its touch of the superstitious, and the story of his anxiety is therefor probable enough. It may, nevertheless, have been evolved from the correspondent's imagination.

EVENING UP.

TO THE EDITOR:—In the Davie-Colonist libel suit the jury awarded Mr. Davie $1 damages and costs. In the Colonist-News deal Mr. Davie demanded $15,000 and got it for the distressed shareholders. Honors are therefore easy between the organ and the Premier, with the latter on top smirking with pleasure over his triumph.

BEAUTIFUL AND PROGRESSIVE.

An Old Timer's Views on Re-Visiting Victoria After Five Years.

Mr. Reginald W. Nuttall, of Santa Barbara, Cal., formerly a resident of Victoria, was asked by the TIMES to give his present impressions of Victoria. With characteristic affability he said:

"I feel pleasure at the solid evidences of progress and prosperity which are visible on every hand, and which with wise administration and care will give the Province a world-wide reputation for general resources, unexcelled by any other portion of this continent. Victoria, with its beautiful scenic surroundings, will ever be the delight of the tourist, and your unequalled forests, teeming with mineral resources, will attract the surplus wealth of the more unsettled portions of Europe.

"Liberal land laws for actual settlement I think would be more conducive to the welfare of the province, as they would attract the skilled axmen of frontier states and territories of Canada and America, who are better adapted to such an existence, and would more speedily reduce wood and swamp land to a high state of cultivation. Trunk roads from Victoria should be constructed by the Government to the large areas of land on the west coast of the Island, so that settlers could ride or drive to the various sections, independent of uncertain sloop or small steamer transportation, besides escaping the boisterous weather often experienced outside of Cape Flattery. Having been a resident long before railway construction, and now an eye witness of the still farther prosperity achieved, I am yet able to predict a still brighter future and to assure my numerous friends that no one enjoys the pleasure more fully than myself, who, in the dim past worked and hoped so ardently for the results now accomplished. A little more energy well applied will give Victoria the prominence its location demands, and the means used in obtaining it justify."

THE NEW PRESBYTERY.

General Business Transacted at Yesterday's Meeting.

At the first meeting of Vancouver Island Presbytery, held in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon, besides the appointment of officers as announced in yesterday's TIMES, the Presbytery appointed Rev. P. McF. McLeod convener of Home Missions; Dr. Campbell, Sabbath schools; Mr. Alexander Fraser, State of Religion; Rev. A. B. Winchester, Sabbath Observance; J. A. McDonald, Alberni, Temperance; Rev. D. Macrae, Colleges; Rev. D. A. McCrae, Nanaimo, Finance.

The Presbytery transferred Mr. Smith of Alberni to the Northfield mission, and Mr. Adamson of Northfield to Alberni, the change to continue to the end of the year. Mr. Campbell was continued in charge of the Metchosin and Sooke missions till the end of March. Requests for power to effect complete organization of Alberni and Victoria West were granted. The Presbytery decided to hold three regular meetings during the year. The place of the next meeting will be St. Andrew's church, Nanaimo, Tuesday, December 13th.

Followed Her Inclinations.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 14.—Miss Lottie Laisy, a prominent young woman, a teacher of German in the public school, has mysteriously disappeared. Her people are Protestants, but Miss Laisy has for a long time expressed great admiration for the convent system of the Catholic church, and also expressed her desire to become a nun. Since her departure it has been learned that she mortgaged her property heavily, and her parents think that she has gone to Germany to enter a convent.

Her Crew Witnessed the Operations of the Russian Cruiser Zabiaka off Copper Island.

The Carlotta Cox is the High Line Schooner of the Fleet—News of the Other Boats.

The sealing schooner Triumph, Capt. Gus. Whidden, arrived from Copper Island at 10:30 last night. She lay at the outer wharf all night, and this morning was towed by the Constance to Grant's wharf, at the end of Point Ellice bridge. She was the only schooner warned by the Majestic in her trip south from Petropaulovsky with the crews of the Ariel, C. H. White, Rosie Olsen and Willie McGowan aboard.

She brings news that further confirms the statements that other seizures have been made. On August 9th, two days before she spoke the Majestic, and while south of Copper Island, about 40 miles off shore, she sighted a Russian cruiser, undoubtedly the Zabiaka. Only a short distance away were four other schooners completely off their guard, one having no sails set. The Triumph had all her boats in and was carrying full sail. She stood away, and the cruiser, after following a short distance, turned around and ran for the four schooners. Capt. Whidden, still running away, saw the cruiser steam right in amidst the schooners. That was all he saw. A heavy fog settled down over the ocean with remarkable suddenness, and, like a curtain, shut out his view of the climax in a thrilling drama. That the cruiser seized some, if not all the vessels, seems certain, only Capt. Whidden does not know positively. He kept out of the way, and on August 11, two days later, fell in with the Majestic. He ran close to her and saw a bottle thrown overboard. This he picked up. It contained the following note, the original copy of which he gave the TIMES man:

"On board American bark Majestic, at sea, Aug. 11, 1892, Lat. 56 North, Long. 166.04 East. To sealing schooner in sight. Take notice that you are in danger of capture by Russian cruiser Zabiaka now at Copper Island. I have aboard four crews of schooners Ariel, C. H. White, Rosie Olsen, and Willie McGowan (captured by her), 84 men all told, three days out from Petropaulovsky bound for Puget Sound. The cruiser went by us day before yesterday. There is another schooner lying W. by S. of you about 15 miles off. Try to go and warn him and then get you away. The cruiser captures all within a line drawn from Behring Sea division line to Carral Straits. Yours truly, N. LORENTZEN, commanding bark Majestic."

Captain Whidden did not lose any time. He got. He did not return home direct, but headed for the passes among the northern islands in the direction of which he had come out to Copper Island from Sand Point, Alaska. He did not get many skins and soon shaped his course for Queen Charlotte Islands. He reached Clayoquot last Friday and has been since Sunday trying to get up to Victoria. He left a number of his Indians on the coast and brought the rest up here.

On August 9th the Triumph spoke the Carlotta Cox with 400 odd skins, making her total work for the season 2450. She is, therfore, the high line schooner of the fleet. The same day the Maud S., with 1401 for the season, was spoken. The C. H. Tupper was also seen. She had 200 odd for her work on the Russian side. The Triumph took 257 skins on the Russian side and 287 on this side, making her season's catch 544. She never went closer to land than 40 miles off Copper Island.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.

Exciting Pursuit of a Sealing Schooner, Which is Compelled to Heave To.

The Russian seizures around Copper Island and the efforts of different schooners to avoid the cutters, while very serious matters, are not without their amusing features. The E. B. Marvin, after being warned of the first seizures, of course sought to give the tip to all the schooners working around the island. On August 5 the W. P. Hall, Capt. Brown, was sighted, and Capt. Clarence Cox headed the Marvin straight for her. The Marvin looked big and evidently frightened old Capt. Brown, who set all sail and took to his heels. Capt. Cox thought that was funny, but soon understood the situation. He, too, hoisted all sail and a chase began. The Marvin gained right along, but her signals to stop were unanswered by the Hall. Finally a bright idea struck Capt. Cox. He had his old brass cannon brought forward, and filling it half full of powder fired. The poor old Nova Scotian, fearing he was to be shot to pieces, immediately hove to, dropped all sail and awaited his capture. One would imagine that he would have been mad when he discovered his mistake, but on the contrary he was tickled all over.

"Let Dogs Delight."

Two "naughty bow-wows" have caused their respective owners to champion their cause in the court. Mrs. Buckett, of Fowl Bay, owns a big dog that has a reputation of snarling at every one; while Mr. Smith, a neighbor, is the possessor of a meek species of canine. Mrs. Buckett's dog bit Mr. Smith's dog on Saturday night. The Smith quadruped did not hold out long in the scrapping match. The Smith dog, much the worse for the fight, returned to its proud owner who is said to have armed himself with a heavy stick of which the Buckett dog got the benefit of the good qualities. The result is Smith got a summons charging him with cruelty to animals. He appeared in the police court. But the court decided it has no jurisdiction, the case being outside the city. And the matter was adjourned for further "diagnosis" in the provincial police court Thursday morning.

Want Mail Delivery Restored.

The residents of Victoria West have a petition almost ready to forward to the postmaster-general, praying that the mail delivery, of which they were deprived about two months ago, be restored. The petition has been signed by all the residents in Victoria West. It will be forwarded to Ottawa in a day or two.

Arthur Hardie, the boy who was accidently shot on Sunday last, is doing very well. He is in no danger whatever, and is improving. The bullet has not been removed. The little patient is still in the Marine Hospital at Esquimalt.

A Long One.

The new drive belt for the N. E. Tramway Co. left Montreal on the 6th inst., and as the C. P. R. people are rushing it through it should be here in a few days. The belt is 130 feet long, endless, 50 inches wide and weighs 1200 pounds.

Draped in Mourning.

The chair in the press gallery at the City Hall heretofore occupied by the News reporter was draped in mourning last evening. The drapery used was a piece of crape, decorated with white, the symbol of youth, purity and innocence.

Will Combine.

The Knights of Pythias and Canadian Order of Oddfellows will probably go to Westminster together on the 21st instant. At first it was intended to have two separate excursions, but it has been thought advisable to combine and have one big one.

A Noted Seattleite.

E. W. Ruff, who is connected with the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railway, recently acquired by the Northern Pacific, is in the city. He is on a little business trip and will return home to-night. In addition to his connection with the railroad Mr. Ruff is a prominent and respected citizen of Seattle.

No Excuse for It.

A boy was fined $3 in the police court this morning for using profane language in the Victoria theatre last evening. The magistrate said there was no excuse for any one using profane language in a place of amusement or any other public place, and he would deal severely with any case of the kind brought before him.

Going Home Maimed.

William Christisen, the engineer of the steamer Polar Bear, who had his arm shot off when the crew of the U.S. steamer Yorktown fired on his vessel at False Pass, two months ago, has arrived down on the City of Topeka. The man again avers that the ship never signalled before the gun was fired. The injured man is going to his home in Astoria.

Their Peculiar Ideas.

The Port Townsend customs authorities are a very careful set of men. The Wilmington, bound for Vancouver, called at Port Townsend Monday. She had five Chinamen aboard bound for Vancouver, and as was going to Seattle first the officers just took these Chinamen off for safety and locked them up. The steamer called for them as she came north again.

The French Officers.

The officers of the French flagship Dubourdieu will probably be entertained at a ball by the citizens before the ship leaves this port. A meeting will be held at the board of trade rooms this evening to consider the proposition. This afternoon Messrs. Redon, Lombard, Renouf and Watelet called on the officers on board the ship. The crew will possibly present a play on board the vessel next Sunday.

The Petition Drafted.

Those interested in the establishment of a Highland Corps met last evening, when the draft of the petition to be sent to Hon. Mackenzie Bowell was read, amended and adopted. It was suggested that in case the Minister rejected the proposition to establish a corps, that the Highlanders join with the proposed infantry corps. The suggestion will be considered by the committee on Thursday evening.

Aimless Repetitions.

It is rather amusing to hear an alderman say when he is getting up to speak for the tenth time on the same subject, "I do not intend to take up much of the council's time," and then follow with what he has said over and over again, and at still greater length than on any of the previous nine occasions. Those who have some idea of the preciousness of time feel little amusement over it, though. If to waste time is a crime the aldermen will have some long accounts to settle.

Warspite Officers at Home.

To-morrow afternoon, at the Royal Navy Recreation Grounds, Esquimalt, Rear Admiral Hotham, C. B., Captain Hedworth Lambton and officers of H. M.S. Warspite, will give an at home to their friends. From 3 to 8 o'clock a nice programme of athletic sports will be enjoyed at the grounds. It is understood that the invitations have been numerous, and the well known ability of the gallant officers to entertain ensures a very large attendance of guests.

Canners Packing Cohoes.

Inspector of Dominion Fisheries McNab, of Westminster, arrived in town yesterday. Mr. McNab reports that the Messrs. Burrill, Ladner and Wadhams, three Fraser river cannery men, are going extensively into the packing of cohoes this year. The question of the disposal of fish offal will shortly be decided by the Fisheries Department. The cannery men at present dump the offal into cribs near the canneries. The offal finally finds its way into the stream and the result is said to be the same as if dumped into the river in the first place.

STOLE HIS KLOOTCHMAN.

A Clayoquot Indian Experiences Injury Added to Insult.

On board the sealing schooner Triumph, which arrived this morning, is a badly battered up Indian. He got into a fight at Clayoquot and came out most unmercifully beaten. His name is Dandy. The name is not appropriate, for he is probably the homeliest Indian in the world. It seems that when he shipped he left behind a buxom klootch to watch the ever-bounding waves, until on their heaving bosoms they should bear back the white-winged seal hunter which carried him away. While Dandy chased seals and avoided Russians in the far north, a black-hearted Siwash at Clayoquot poured a little romance into his life by stealing away his beloved klootch. Dandy, on his return, made things lively at Clayoquot; but he was the John L. Sullivan in that fight.

Down on the west coast where the influence of the missionaries is not known the practice of wife stealing is common. Sealers say that the bucks worry much while away and are so anxious to return that they cause considerable trouble.

MARRIED IN THE SYNAGOGUE.

The Daughter of Rabbi Philo Weds Mr. J. A. Waxstock.

Temple Emanu-El was well filled this afternoon by members of the Hebrew community of Victoria to witness the nuptials of Miss Minnie, the second daughter of Rabbi Philo, to Mr J. A. Waxstock, the cigar merchant of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride. Mrs. Philo, as is the Hebraic custom, gave away her daughter. Dr. Philo, in the absence of the father of the groom, gave away that gentleman. The drinking of wine by the bride and the groom took place, as is wont in Jewish weddings. This is symbolical of the uncertainty of married life. As a drinker of wine knows not what may be at the bottom of the cup, so a person entering into matrimony knows not his future. The breaking of the wine cup was dispensed with. The latter is a custom that is seldom carried out now. Upon the successful breaking of the cup fate decreed a happy or unhappy marriage.

The bride was attired in white, trimmed with white lace and Indian silk. She wore a wreath of flowers and a long white veil. The bridesmaids were Miss Louisa Philo, Leah Phillips, Nettie Dannenberg and Rosie Philo. The groomsmen were Messrs. Isidore Philo, Charles Phillips, Bernard Phillips, T. Landsberg and Aaron Lewis. The temple was decorated with evergreens and flowers. After the ceremony, dinner was served at the residence of the bride's father, 85 Herald street. A public reception will be held this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Waxstock will begin housekeeping on Frederick street.

A Nice Point of Law.

Application was made this morning before the Hon Mr. Justice Walkem for a writ of certiorari on behalf of a prisoner now serving his term of imprisonment with hard labor at the Provincial goal. The grounds of the application were that one of the witnesses on whose evidence the prisoner was found guilty was not sworn in the usual way, although he did not refuse to be so sworn, and that although his cousel raised an objection at the time the oath was administered, the witness was not asked whether he considered the oath he had taken as binding on his conscience. His Lordship directed the writ to issue, returnable at 10.30 to-morrow. The decision on this technicality will be awaited with interest by notaries and others, as it may show that "the old fashioned Bible" is not indispensable in administering or taking an oath. Mr. J. P. Walls appeared in support of the application, and Mr. Gordon Hunter opposed it.

Chinese Free Masons.

To-day is a great day in Chinatown. It is the anniversary of the Masonic organizations of the Chinese, and is being observed in a manner fitting the occasion. At the headquarters of the order on Fisgard street a Chinese orchestra has discoursed soul-stirring music all day. The feast will occur this evening. Elaborate menus, embracing all the fearful and wonderful delicacies of the Chinese cook, have been prepared.

Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax.

Bishop Lemmens and the Catholic clergy are expecting a visit from Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax. His departure from the east for Vancouver and Victoria was announced some time ago, but since then nothing has been heard of him. Lieut.-Governor Daly, of Nova Scotia, with whom it is possible the archbishop is traveling, passed through Winnipeg on Saturday on his way to this city.

Views of the Sealing Grounds.

Mr. R. H. Maynard, who went north on H. M. S. Nymphe to take views of the sealing grounds, has about 150 views ready. The pictures are all good ones, and particularly so of the islands. They will show the Government officials that seals are not so very scarce.

His Worship the Mayor will to-morrow call on the Admiral and officers of the French flagship Dubourdieu. While on board he will ask the Admiral to allow the band to play in the park on Saturday afternoon.

To Go to the Asylum.

James Wallace, an old man who has been confined in the city lock-up for several days for being of unsound mind, will be sent to the asylum on the next steamer. The commitment was made out to-day.

Spencer's Arcade.

The fall opening at Spencer's Arcade occurs to-morrow and will be one of the great "shopping events" of the year among the ladies of Victoria, most of whom will go to see, while many will remain to buy.

Music by the Band.

It has been suggested by a number of citizens that a concert by the splendid band of the French battle-ship Dubourdieu, now in Esquimalt, would be a great treat to Victoria's music-loving people. It is reported that some steps in this direction will be taken in a day or two.

Rushing Ahead.

There is a small army of men at work on the new power house for the tramway company, and engaged in getting the machinery in place. Good progress is being made. The walls of the building are level with the sidewalk, and the excavation at the south-eastern corner of the site is nearly completed.

A Prominent Railroader.

Walter Oakes, secretary of the Puget Sound and Alaska Steamship Co., is in the city on a business trip. Mr. Oakes is looked upon as the likely successor of Manager D. B. Jackson. Mr. Jackson was to have retired on July 1, but it was agreed that he should stay until all matters connected with the deal for the sale of his interest to the Northern Pacific Railroad Co. were finally settled.

The Law Breakers.

The chief of the Neah Bay Indians and a couple of his tillicums who came over to attend the funeral of the late chief of the Songhees, had a grand potlam last night. The chief was caught with a couple of bottles in his possession, and was this morning fined $25 and costs. A couple of members of his tribe were fined $5 each for being drunk. Chas. N. Banks, charged with carrying on business without a license, was remanded, and J. S. Smith, charged with cruelty to animals, was dismissed, as the alleged offense was committed outside the city limits.

A Disgraceful Fracas.

Charles Tite and Geo. Tudhope, met last night in the rear of a Government street resort and settled some differences which existed between them in a half-hour's fight. Tite was worsted, although his opponent did not have so much the best of it. The men were "groggy" before they began. The affair was not very scientific. They would stand away off, rush in, land, clinch and fall. That would be repeated, varied now and then with a little see-sawing and sparring. Quite a number saw the affair and were responsible for stopping it.

Diving for a Purse.

A Chinaman this afternoon dropped a purse containing $150 into the harbor, near the public landing. John was nonplussed for some time, but finally taking the advice of a longshoreman, he stripped off and made an effort to recover the purse. He could not swim, but this did not prevent him from jumping into the water several times without, however, being able to reach the bottom. The crowd of men who were being amused by the Chinaman's antics in the water, offered all kinds of advice, one telling John to take a few matches down with him, so that he could see while under water. John would trust nobody after that, so the purse and the money remained at the bottom.

ON SANITARY TOPICS.

Some Discussion of Vaccination, Sewerage and Other Questions of Interest.

A Strong Upholder of the Separate System of Sewerage—Frontage Tax Advantages.

Following are extracts from a second letter written by Dr. Patterson, of Winnipeg, whose opinions are based on experience in sanitary matters in that city:

My assertion that "anti-vaccinationists are cranks" appears to have rather touched a tender spot in two of your correspondents, Mr. Wm. Greig and "Scotus." Yet I adhere to my opinion. At the present day there are few who will deny that the occurrence, intensity and spread of smallpox in the different countries on the face of the earth is governed principally by the manner in which this eminently protective remedy, vaccination, is employed. Previous to vaccination not a decade passed in which smallpox did not decimate the inhabitants of one country or another. In Europe it long constituted one of the greatest scourges of mankind, and has been dreaded more than cholera or plague. Where arm to arm vaccination is in vogue, the reasonable objection might be raised that tubercle, syphilis, etc., might be communicated with it, and could the anti-vaccinationists shew that this was difficult to prevent, or even occurred with any proportionate degree of frequency, vaccination would receive a heavy blow. But here lies the weak point in their deductions. Those cases where the actual transmission of disease have been verified are so exceedingly rare that objections based upon them may be said to be foundationless. In all cases where such an unfortunate occurrence did take place, it was not the fault of the vaccination, but due to the carelessness or ignorance of the vaccinator in choosing an unhealthy child to vaccinate from. To-day no such objection can be urged, for all the lymph used is taken directly from the cow, carefully selected at well conducted state institutions, and syphilis, to which "Scotus" alludes, is now found in cattle. A A weapon of defence against the scourge of smallpox so powerful as vaccination should not be left to the whim of the individual. The state has the right and the duty to look after its most thorough performance. Vaccination has visibly increased the average duration of life, and even if a few consider vaccination in the light of a sacrifice the state has the right in times of peril to demand this sacrifice from the few in the interests of the community. It is to be hoped that the scientific investigations now going on, principally in Germany and France, will give to the world similar boons, similar protections against cholera, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other infectious diseases.

I see that your citizens gave the quietus to all your by-laws for the raising of money. I think it a good thing that in some of the cases they did so. For instance, I do not believe that any one, two or three municipalities should bear the cost of stamping out an exceptional epidemic of smallpox. It was a provincial calamity, and the province should pay for it.

Then again take your sewerage by-law. I believe it was a good thing it was defeated. It has had the effect of starting you upon the right track. All such work, together with the construction of streets and sidewalks, should be provided for upon the purely frontage tax principle. The property benefitted should pay at least the major portion of the costs. We work on building sewers, streets and sidewalks out of the general fund until we reached nearly the limit of our borrowing capacity, then all came to a standstill, and the system only half completed. Since the adoption of the frontage tax for all such work, about two years ago, the amount done has been five-fold what it was. The inhabitants upon any street can have just what improvements they are willing to pay for. A certain proportion of the property-holders petition for the work; such petition is advertised for a certain time and if not petitioned against the City Council proceeds with the work. The frontage tax bonds are eagerly sought after by capitalists. To even up—the valuation for assessment purposes of all properties upon streets where the improvements were made out of the general fund before the adoption of the frontage tax principle, is simply increased by a certain amount, so that the extra assessment paid about equals the frontage tax that should have been levied.

I see that there is a divergence of opinion as to the principle adopted in the construction of your sewers, that is as to which is the better, the combined or the separate systems. The separate system is without the shadow of a doubt the proper one. It consists of a water-tight tube for the carrying off of all liquid sewage from the interior of buildings, and and an open porous drain, both in the same excavation, for the removal of surface and ground water. An essential for a healthy house is a well-drained site underneath and around to build upon. This can be accomplished by means of the porous drain, whilst the size of your water-tight sewer for sewage, and which is costly, is so reduced as to cover the cost of the porous drain. In the combined system all sewage from the interior of buildings, together with all surface water, are carried away in the same water-tight tube. It must of course be large to accommodate the larger flow during wet weather, which in the separate system is carried off by your porous drain. With the combined system there is no means of draining the ground around your house. If you do drain your lot and connect with this combined sewer, it may be all right during wet weather, when your drain and the trap on it is full of water, but during dry seasons, when there is no ground water to run in through this connection, and the water in the trap evaporates, you simply have an open sewer pipe conveying sewer gas underneath and all around your dwelling. We have the combined system in Winnipeg, and as a result not a single lot is drained. When we dig a cellar and build a house over it we have to dig a catch basin and connect it with the iron pipe that carries the sewage from the house to the sewer, placing a trap upon said connection. What is the result? There is not a dry, really healthy cellar in the city. In wet weather the soakage from all the ground around the house finds its way underneath the walls to this catch basin, keeping the cellar wet and mouldy. In spells of dry weather we have to constantly every day or two pour water into the catch basin to keep the water seal in the trap patent. If we did not we would simply have an open sewer pipe delivering sewer gas underneath our living apartments.

Another point under discussion with you is the size of your sewer pipes. There is far more danger of your sewer pipes being too large than too small. A small pipe is self cleansing—and is easily flushed; a larger pipe is not. In a small pipe, the sewage is condensed into a deep, rapid running stream. In a larger pipe it is a broad, shallow, sluggish stream. In a large pipe you have a larger surface for foul adhesions, and a greater likelihood of deposits taking place than in a small one. There are few who have any idea, unless they have paid special attention to it, of the amount of sewage which with a fair fall will flow through a six or nine inch pipe. With the separate system the amount of sewage in any street will be a comparatively steady thing; the amount can be pretty accurately estimated. Your sewer should be large enough to accommodate it, but not too large. Ours are large enough to accommodate a population of 100,000, and are the foulest on the continent.

I sat down to write you only a few lines and have scribbled all this. It is not intended for publication; it would be presumption on my part to do anything of the kind; but I intend it simply for you as a newspaper man discussing these questions, to give you the benefit of any experience I have gained here.

PHRENO-PHYSIOGNOMY.

Lectures to be Delivered by Prof. Golledge—Character, Reading, Etc.

The arrival of the widely known and highly reputed and credentialled Prof. Artemas Golledge, who is a member of the British Phrenological Association of London, phreno-physiognomist and lecturer, was announced in these columns last week. The professor will be appearing in a phrenophysiognomical entertainment in the Y.M.C.A. rooms to-morrow, (Thursday) evening. He will also be lecturing on the same platform on Friday, Tuesday and Wednesday, on one of these occasions the Venerable Archdeacon Scriven, M. A., has signified his intention to preside with Professor Golledge, it has been almost a life's employment, the study, practice and reading with an eye to things bearing on the subject of disposition reading. He commenced the study of the indications of character as a school boy. He was not 21 years of age when he made his debut as a professional phrenologist in Ross, England, in the year 1880, and although to-morrow evening will be his first public appearance on an American platform, he has practiced and lectured in nearly all the large centres of population in Australia, Tasmania and New Zealand, and previous to his arrival in Australia, in 1887, practiced disposition reading in Ireland, Wales, England, Jersey and Guernsey. He has been the recipient of testimonials of an exceptionally high order. Among those who have testified in writing may be mentioned His Honor Judge Paul, Judge of the Metropolitan District Court, Brisbane; J. W. Philipps, Esq., since M. P. for Mid-Lanark in the Imperial Parliament; Dr. Berry, D. D., when Vicar-General of the R. C. diocese of Sandhurst, Vict.; Dr. Macdonnell, M. B., Ch. M., Westport, N. Z.; Dr. Rendle, F. R. C. S., Brisbane; the Earl of Craven; the late Dr. Badcock, LL. D., Vicar of Stroud, England, and others. Professor Golledge does not pretend to be a mere student of bumps, but a student of the indications of character. He may be interviewed at the Balmoral Hotel. His visit here may not be of long duration.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

The Board of Aldermen Will Ask the Ratepayers to Vote $25,000 for General Repairs.

Last Evening is Spent in an Edifying Discussion upon Ways and Means.

From present prospects the city council will have at least two loan by-laws to place before the people on the 7th of October. The surface drain by-law was finally passed, and the street improvement by-law went through committee at a special meeting of the council held last evening. The business of the evening was commenced by the reading of the following

COMMUNICATIONS.

From New Westminster's clerk, inviting the Mayor and council to go to that city during the exhibition. Received and accepted.

From the secretary of the B.C. Agricultural Society, requesting a bonus of $1000 towards the coming exhibition.

Ald. Munn moved that the latter be received, and the association informed that the request will be considered by the council.

Ald. McKillican said he thought the motion would be misleading. The association should be informed of the position of the council.

Ald. Munn's motion was carried.

BY-LAWS.

Ald. Lovell moved the reconsideration and final passage of the by-law respecting the expenditure of the municipal revenue for 1892. The motion carried.

The council went into committee of the whole on the surface drainage by-law. The committee rose and reported the by-law complete with amendments. The report was adopted.

Ald. Munn moved the first reading of the by-law authorizing the corporation to borrow $—— for the improvements of streets, roads and bridges.

The motion was carried and the by-law also passed a second reading.

Ald. Munn said no one could fail to see the necessity of having the streets repaired, which it was impossible to do without aid of the kind. The council could certainly borrow money for the purposes set out, although there was a difference of opinion on the question. The need of repairs on the streets will shortly be felt, and if something is not done many of them will be impassable during the winter. Besides this the bridges are falling to pieces. He had little doubt that the people would pass the by-law.

Ald. Lovell said it was impossible to keep the streets in order out of the general revenue, and money had to be borrowed to do the work, which is very necessary.

Ald. Styles was certainly in favor of improving the streets. Much more would have been done to the streets if it had not been for the sewers. The people will be at a loss to know what the council intends to do. A local improvement by-law had just been passed with the object of keeping the streets in repair. Now money is to be borrowed for the same purpose. He thought a conference should be had with the Government with the object of having the money spent on smallpox returned and spent on streets and bridges.

Ald. Munn said the question of the amount could, of course, be fixed by the council.

Ald. Bragg had no doubt that Ald. Munn's motive was a good one. He supposed that if the by-law was passed the money could only be spent on streets. The money was needed immediately, and would meet his views better if it could be spent for other purposes besides the streets.

Ald. Hunter was, of course, in favor of the by-law. The object of the by-law was to improve the streets and bridges, which was certainly necessary. The local improvement by-law did not deal with repairs to the streets and therefore did not clash with the by-law at present under discussion. The amount named in the by-law could be easily spent on necessary repairs. He was strongly in favor of the by-law.

Ald. Styles in regard to bridges, said: No new bridges should be built over James Bay or the Gorge road gulleys. By-laws should be brought in to borrow money to fill in the ravines and James Bay and thereby made permanent roadways.

The Mayor said the by-law did not conflict with the local improvement by-law. He thought possibly there might be some objection to the clause, which spoke of money already spent on the streets.

The by-law passed the second reading and the council went into committee to consider it.

Ald. Munn said the object of the by-law was not only for the improvement of roads and bridges, but also to relieve the revenue by returning money taken from the treasury for streets and bridges during the present year.

Ald. Hunter thought it would go straight to the point and borrowed $25,000 and spend it on streets and bridges.

The council decided to place the amount of $25,000 in the by law, the whole to be spent on streets and bridges.

The committee rose and reported the by-law complete with amendments.

The council adjourned at 10:40.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents. *

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Some people often want the impossible instead of striving after the practicable. When the news of Russia's seizures was made known in Victoria through the press, a warlike citizen groaned in spirit and cried, "Oh, for one hour of Disraeli." I gently reminded him that Salisbury was the Foreign Secretary during Disraeli's regime as Premier, and that the Russians could not possibly have known of the change of government at the time of the seizures. "Lord Salisbury is no good," he said. "Lord Rosebery then?" "I tell you what," he continued, "as old Disraeli is dead, I should just like to show the Russians his boots."

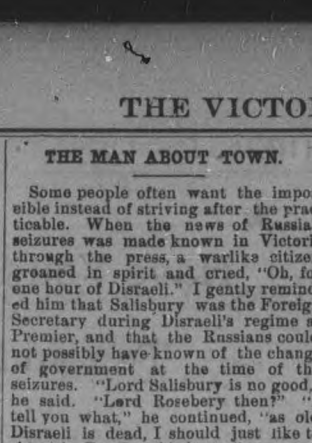
I pondered thereon, and visions of boots arose. I thought I should like a pair of Wellington's to show the savage Russian, a pair of Blucher's to exhibit to the excitable French, a pair of Nelson's to argue the modus vivendi with, some of Cobden's, Bright's and Gibson's to present to Sir John Abbott, a pair of Washington's to suggest ideas to the modern despot, the Premier, and if I was not so faint hearted I should like a good, stout pair of boots for myself and a decent notion of using them for civic official purposes. And the responsible persons that allow the contractors and builders to occupy one-half and three-fifths of the streets in the busy thoroughfares, and pile heaps of bricks and stones in front of other citizens' stores and offices, are the persons for which boots would be exceedingly useful.

I understand that the building inspector is responsible for the use of the streets for building purposes and that the by-law calls for a limited portion of the street in front only of the piece of land upon which the said building is to be erected. Remonstrances are but little use with certain builders; the by-laws should be put in force and the offenders prosecuted and fined.

QUIZ.

The Stowaway.

Among the few successes of the past half dozen years, not one has attained half the public favor that has attended



"DICKY DIALS" TO THE RESCUE

the presentations of The Stowaway, a play that so happily combines the realistic and the highly sensational in a story that is both full of interest, quick in action, and contains a strong, well-defined and cleverly-conceived plot. This play, which is of English origin, came to this country at first comparatively unknown. It was not heralded by brilliantly written advance notices, and several presentations in America were necessary before the public were able to judge what manner of play it was. That the verdict was a favorable one is sufficiently evidenced by the six consecutive seasons it has been on the road in this country, and by the financial success that has attended its exploit by Managers Litt and Davis. It will be the attraction at the Victoria Theatre, Thursday (to-morrow) night. As the company presenting the play, all of the scenery and mechanical effects are new, and the entire production said to be the best that has yet been given here, there is no reason to doubt that the house will be crowded to the doors.

CONTEMPLATED TRACK.

Lacrosse Championship Match Dates Fixed---Baseball at the Westminster Show.

The Victoria Jockey Club is being offered inducements to build a half mile or mile track at Colwood on the line of the E. & N. Railway. In view of the fact that there is some trouble over the club's present track, several members of the club are strongly in favor of moving to Colwood. They say the site is a better one and could be obtained for practically nothing, and when built, could be run much cheaper than the Victoria Driving Park. If a majority of the shareholders are in favor of the proposition, the club will have a chance to make a track as good as any on the coast, and have much better accommodation than they have at present. The drive to the track is a pleasant one, and for those who cannot drive, a half-hourly train service could be inaugurated. There would be no crowding on street cars then, and, therefore, many who do not attend now would be found among the club's patrons. The matter will probably be brought up at Tuesday evening's meeting.

LACROSSE.

THE DATES FIXED.

It has been mutually agreed upon by the clubs interested that the championship match, between the Victorias and Victorias, set for September 17th at Vancouver, will be played on Saturday the 24th. The game scheduled for the 24th between the Westminsters and Victorias, will be played on the 22nd, during the Westminster exhibition; when the Victoria intermediates are also booked to play the intermediates of the Royal City.

BASEBALL.

MATCH AT THE ROYAL CITY.

The James Bay baseball club will play the Westminster club a game at Queen's Park, New Westminster, on Thursday, beginning at 10 a. m. The James Bays are in good order for giving a proper account of themselves.

THE TURF.

TO PROVIDE A TRACK.

The shareholders of the Jockey Club will meet next Tuesday evening to decide what they are going to do for a track. The Driving Park, which they are now using, is to be sold by the sheriff shortly.

THE GUN

THE TOURNAMENT.

The gun clubs' tournament will be held at the Union Club's grounds on the 29th September, and about 300 will be given in prizes. The clubs of the provincial and Sound cities will be invited to take part.

THE LICENSING COURT.

The Court Reserves its Decisions in the Applications for New Licenses.

The four applications for new licenses and those for transfers were considered by the Board of Licensing Commissioners to-day. The board consisted of His Worship the Mayor, Police Magistrate Macrae, Ald. Hunter, Dr. Powell, J.P., and Noah Shakespeare, J.P.

TRANSFERS.

Mr. J. Merrifield applied for a ratification and extension of the Mayor's permit for a transfer of a license held by the Pacific Telegraph hotel to a new building adjoining the old one. The application was granted.

Geo. Shea and Jas. McLeod applied for a transfer of the American hotel license to Shewan & Menaugh. The application was postponed.

William Wolff applied for a transfer of the Monarch Saloon license to Jas. McCrealey. Granted.

Jas. Walsh applied to have the White Horse Saloon license transferred to Jas. Rollins. Granted.

Mrs. F. Martin applied for a transfer of the Grove Saloon license to Thomas Meirose. Granted.

NEW LICENSES.

Mr. Eberts, of Eberts & Taylor, applied on behalf of W. H. Tullock, of the Wilson Hotel, for a retail license. The necessary petitions and notices were produced.

Mr. Hall appeared for the W.C.T.U. in opposition to the license and presented a petition against it.

Mr. Eberts objected to Mr. Hall's petition on the ground that no one had been given a chance to see it until after the court opened, whereas his petition had been on file for fourteen days.

The board reserved its decision.

Mr. Eberts also appeared on behalf of Mr. Bossi for a license for his building at the corner of Pandora and Blanchard streets.

Mr. Hall presented three petitions against this license. One was from some of the residents of the block in which the building is situated, and the others were from the Pandora Avenue Methodist and the First Presbyterian churches.

The court also reserved its decision in this case and then adjourned for lunch.

Mr. S. Duck applied for a license to sell liquor at his block on Broad street. Mr. Mills appeared for the applicant and Mr. Hall for the W.C.T.U.

Mr. Hall said a hotel was altogether unnecessary in the locality, and in fact there are already too many hotels in Victoria. The court should not consider the remark made by Mr. Mills that men should be encouraged to build.

Mr. Mills said if the court did anything they should encourage building. Another thing Mr. Duck and other men should be encouraged as they were clearing out the old shacks on Broad street and erecting good buildings.

Mr. Duck said he intended to be responsible for the license and see that the house was an orderly one.

The court reserved its decision in this case, as in the others.

Mr. Bennett, on behalf of Young Bros., applied for a license for the New England Hotel. No petition was presented, Mr. Bennett contending that it was unnecessary when applying for a hotel license.

The application was being considered at the time of going to press.

CHESS IN ENGLAND.

Pleasant Meetings of the Counties' Chess Association.

The following is taken from the Rossndale Free Press, and will doubtless prove interesting reading to the large number of enthusiastic chess players in Victoria: The meetings of the Counties' Chess Association are deservedly popular. They are undertaken in a holiday spirit, always being held in some pleasant locality, which makes them particularly enjoyable. Added to this they provide an occasion for the reunion of old friends and chess opponents from [illegible] parts of the country, who [illegible] the existence of the association might [illegible] but seldom find an opportunity of coming together. The Counties' Association is essentially representative of British amateur chess, and for this reason, if for no other, it would be worthy of support. In the cultivation of native chess we are far behind other countries, and as a result of this the players of England have for the last few years been quite unable to hold their own with foreign experts. This has been sufficiently exemplified of late by the victories of Lasker over Blackburne and other English masters, as well as in the fact that in the recent Dresden tournament the English players were unable to obtain a prize. The Counties' Chess Association is entirely a native product, the competitors are English, the management is English, and the manner in which its meetings are conducted show all the English attributes of good humor and enthusiasm. The meetings are held for the purpose of combining a pleasant holiday with the enjoyment of the game, and the prizes being small there can be no suggestion that the competitors are influenced by the prospect of pecuniary gain. The meeting just concluded at Brighton was no less successful and enjoyable than its predecessors. Mr. Blake of Southampton, who is a highly scientific as well as a remarkably ingenious player, won the chief tournament for the second time in succession. He was very closely pressed at the end by Mr. Wilson, who is a resident of Brighton, and Mr. Butler, another local player, took the third prize. Sussex chess players are to be congratulated on the success of their representatives, both of whom played in excellent style, while Mr. Butler distinguished himself by inflicting his only defeat upon Mr. Blake. There were two representatives from Bath—namely, Mr. Thorold and Mr. Rumboll, and of these the former did not play with consistent success, although in some of his games he fully maintained his brilliant reputation. Mr. Thorold made an equal score of five with Mr. Trenchard, of London, and these players just missed being among the prize-winners. Mr. Lambert played some good games, but the other competitors, the Rev. A. B. Shipworth and Mr. Guest, were both out of practice, and the former, moreover, was overweighted by his duties as secretary, notwithstanding the able assistance that he received from his local colleague, Mr. Smith, of Brighton. The ladies' tournament, which was instituted a few years ago, was a very interesting feature, and proves that the fair sex, who have not until recently given much attention to chess, are quite capable of practising the game with success. This competition was won by Madame Ludovici, who is a sister of Mrs. Rogers, the donor of the ladies' cup, and much credit is due to her for her victory, which was something of a surprise, over Miss Thorold, the lady champion. The place of meeting for next year has not yet been decided upon, but Clifton is mentioned as a likely locality.

Smallest Bone in the Human Body.

The smallest bones in the human body are to be found in the ear. The smallest of these is known by the anatomical name of stapes. It has a head, neck and two haunches and is shaped not unlike a stirrup iron. The full extent of its dimensions does not exceed that of a pea, and is frequently smaller. By some authorities it has been named the lenticular bone, from the idea that its shape and appearance resembled that of a lens. It is situated within the drum of the ear.—New York World.

King Humbert as a Fireman.

The king of Italy has a perfect fancy for attending fires. The other evening he was due at the German embassy, where Count Solms gave a ball. Her majesty Queen Marguerite, radiant in a toilet of pale yellow silk and dazzling with superb diamonds, came alone, and stated that his majesty the king had gone to a fire which had broken out at a manufactory of macaroni and Italian paste, and he remained at the scene until the flames were subdued.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
